

(iii) Body parameter

→ Sent in the body of the request.

(iv) Header parameter

→ Sent in the header & used for metadata such as authentication token.

(v) Cookie parameter

→ Sent as a part of cookie in the request to store session related information.

(B) Queries

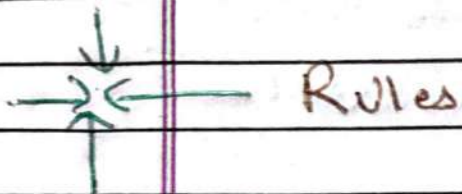

→ It is used to sort out specific user from the DB.

EP: 10 What's API & Rest API

→ It stands for Application programming interface.

→ It acts as a bridge between the server & the client. That is it helps in the two-way motion of data b/w the server & client.

→ If the API follow some Rules then that app is said to be a Rest API.

(i) Response should be the same irrespective of the platform.

(ii) Route name should be on the basis of noun.

(Avoid using Verb into your route)

(iii) HTTP method should be used for doing operation on the routes.

(iv) always in JSON format (data)

(v) Our API's have to be stateless.

EP: II → Mounting in express

⇒ mounting refer to the process of associating a middle ware or router with a specific path in our application